

Schmidt, S (2012) Revision of the Australian sawfly genus Antargidium (Hymenoptera, Symphyta, Argidae) with description of two new species. Zootaxa, 3180, 47–56.

p. 55–56: The depository of the holotype of Antargidium nigrum has been omitted. Since it is a requirement of the ICZN that name and location of the depository of the holotype must accompany the original description (Article 16.4.2.), the following statement is added to the description: The type specimen is deposited in the Australian National Insect Collection, Canberra, Australia.
